CELEBRATING FIVE YEARS OF THE LISA FITTKO INTERNSHIP!

We are delighted to announce that this is the fifth anniversary of the Lisa Fittko Internship at Crossroads Fund. We look forward to hosting an intern this year. In 2005 several friends of Lisa Fittko approached Crossroads Fund about an internship program that would provide a young person with the opportunity to learn about a wide range of social justice issues and groups, while working to make change.

Over the time that we have hosted the internship, we have been lucky to work with four bright and talented young people. Rachel Wallis, the first Fittko Intern, spent her internship working on activities related to our 25th Anniversary, including putting together an exhibit that highlighted the work of our grantees over two and a half decades, and coordinating a campaign to raise money for HIV/AIDS work in Rwanda and in Chicago. Rachel is doing fundraising and communications work with three different activist projects: the Other Worlds collaborative; AREA Chicago; and the Chiapas Media Project.

Our second Lisa Fittko Intern Timothy Jones-Yelvington helped to put together a comprehensive evaluation of our grantees and their efforts for social justice. After the conclusion of his term, Tim was hired at Crossroads Fund as a Program Associate.

Lisa Avila was the third Lisa Fittko Intern. Lisa spent her internship working to expand our Technical Assistance programs, strengthening the trainings that we offer to grassroots groups. Lisa is now a social worker with families in Little Village.

Alexia Rice-Henry was the fourth Fittko Intern. Alexia worked primarily in the Development Department, on the annual event as well as other fundraising activities. Alexia is the Development Intern at Affinity Community Services, while she finishes her final year in Non-Profit Administration at North Park University.

We will hire the fifth Fittko Intern this winter. Watch for a position description, and if you know any young people who would make great candidates please send them our way.

ABOUT LISA FITTKO

All her life, on two continents, Lisa Fittko advocated and worked for social justice and political rights. From her teenage years until she fled Europe in 1941, Lisa worked to oppose fascism. She and her husband helped to lead people out of Nazi-occupied France into Spain.

When she settled in Chicago, Lisa helped organize Hiroshima Day in Hyde Park, was active as a precinct captain, tirelessly demonstrated against the Vietnam war, picketed for Farm Workers, helped to organize clerical workers at the University of Chicago, and served as board president of Harper Square, a housing co-op designed to integrate residents both racially and economically.

Lisa passed away in 2005. She is remembered by her friends, family, and a global community of individuals who are grateful for her efforts to fight fascism and injustice. Crossroads Fund is honored to be selected as the recipient of funds to support an internship in memory of Lisa Fittko.

HONORING A DECADE OF LEADERSHIP

Ten years ago, a great thing happened at the Crossroads Fund: we were fortunate to hire Executive Director, Jeanne Kracher. Under Jeanne's thoughtful leadership, Crossroads Fund has taken great strides, including:

- Passed the $5 million mark in grants given away;
- Celebrated our 25th Anniversary as a Fund – and are looking forward to celebrating our 30th next year;
- Raised our first endowment gift of $1 million and received the largest unrestricted gift ever ($400,000);
- Established the Youth Fund for Social Change and expanded Donor Advised programs;
- Nurtured countless leaders in their work to create racial, social and economic justice in our city.

We will honor Jeanne's tenth anniversary with a special gift to our communities, the Building Strong Leaders Campaign, which will provide resources to support Crossroads Fund staff, board members and grantees to explore development opportunities and trainings, with an emphasis on building the next generation of leaders. The Building Strong Leaders Campaign will allow us to strengthen our internal capacity and serve as a flexible resource to support our grantees.

Our grantmaking has always focused on fostering the development of indigenous leadership in our communities. In fact, Jeanne came out of community work and was, at one point, a Crossroads Fund grantee! Thanks for all of your work Jeanne!

REPORT FROM U.S. SOCIAL FORUM

In 2010, Crossroads Fund helped facilitate opportunities for our grantees to build relationships with other activists, across issues and communities. One of the most notable of these was the U.S. Social Forum, which Crossroads Fund staff and many of our grantees attended, several with our support. The Forum brought more than 15,000 supporters of grassroots social change from around the country and world together in Detroit to strategize across issues for a more just world.

Our grantees led and participated in movement-building through People's Movement Assemblies, gatherings where grassroots activists and community members come together to create collective visions and action plans, like a national agenda to prioritize economic and racial justice in the LGBT/Queer movement, or a youth-led campaign for a National Student Bill of Rights to address inequality in our education system.

Events like the U.S. Social Forum provide needed space for grassroots activists to understand the interconnectedness of issues, brainstorm new ways to work more effectively, all towards building stronger leaders and movements. We look forward to helping support the creation of similar spaces locally in 2011.

THANK YOU CROSSROADS FUND VISIONARIES

FOURTH ANNUAL MINI GOLF, BIG CHANGE

On August 4, 2010, friends and supporters of Crossroads Fund gathered at the Diversey Mini Golf course for a round of golfing, delicious sandwiches, and fun to benefit the Crossroads Fund. Despite heavy rain during the day, the start of the outing saw a beautiful evening. Close to 50 people attended the event and we raised $2,100 to support our programs.
