

Seeds of Change, which will be in-person once again, provides a joyful opportunity to bring together Crossroads Fund community members to celebrate our grantees' successes, raise money for Chicago's social justice movements, and recharge for the work ahead.

This year, we will present the Ron Sable Award for Activism to United Working Families, an organization that builds year-round progressive political infrastructure to assert power for the many, not the wealthiest few. The Donald F. Erickson Synapses Award to Stop Cop City—Atlanta, a campaign to defend the Weelaunee Forest and stop the construction of the Atlanta Public Safety Training Center by the Atlanta Police Foundation and the City of Atlanta. The Lynda J. Tipton Memorial Award for Social Justice to People for Community Recovery, an organization that advocates for community-identified priorities including environmental and climate justice, safe and affordable housing, economic equity and community health.

WHO WE ARE

Since we gave our first grant in 1981, Crossroads Fund has distributed $25 million in grants to over 3,800 groups working on the most critical issues facing communities today including housing justice, immigrant rights, worker rights, LGBTQ issues, education, healing justice, and more.

THE AUDIENCE

Our Seeds of Change fundraising benefit provides sponsors with visibility among a socially conscious community and an incredibly diverse audience. Our in-person Seeds of Change event typically draws over 500 guests to celebrate and fund movements.

THE ASK

Thanks to sponsors and donors like yourself, we collectively raised over $200,000 at last year's event and we aspire to raise even more this year! We invite you to join us in raising funds to support local movements.

Information on the various donation levels and the ways we acknowledge our supporters are on the next page.
